After beginning my legal career in San Antonio immediately after graduation, I focused first on establishing myself at my job and within my law firm before turning my attention toward networking within the larger legal field. Given my prior experience both serving on, and creating, organizations in my younger years, I have greatly enjoyed getting more involved with SAYLA this past year and learning from current Directors and Board members ways in which I could be involved. Previously, I was the co-creator of the Texas Ballet Club in undergrad as well as the OUTLaw Mentorship Program in law school, two organizations that required me and my co-creators to not only build these organizations from the ground up, but to staff the board, plan events, and attract and retain members. I additionally previously served as the Managing Editor on the American Journal of Criminal Law during the height of COVID, which required a unique and creative approach to addressing the Journal's budgetary needs in a newly remote environment. I have greatly enjoyed meeting the current Board members at various events and believe my prior experience will serve me well in the work expected of Directors. I look forward to the work SAYLA will continue to do in the upcoming year, and the ways I can assist in obtaining the organization's goals.

Thank you,

Abigail
